Would you like to make better decisions?

We're overloaded with information today, and we're overloaded with entertaining distractions. Most of it is free and in real time too. We can follow events as they unfold, whether the latest political outrage or celebrity getting out of bed this morning. It's an all-you-can-eat buffet. But the overload makes it too easy to become passive and lazy thinkers. It's mind-numbing. We simply consume. And everyone just moves along like a grazing herd, not thinking much about who's leading or where it's going. That may be OK for entertainment, but wouldn't it be better to make the important decisions for yourself?

Step away from the herd and Think for Yourself. Critical thinking is a powerful weapon in a stupid world. You are your own best source for important answers. Critical thinking makes your life better whether you're watching pet videos or discussing Proust.

"In all countries fools outnumber the rest."

Better to be one of the smart ones. Spend a couple of hours with us and make better decisions forever?
