Discovery:

An average couple suddenly find themselves in a not-so-average situation after an odd thunderstorm leaves them with psionic abilities. As they begin to discover what new things they can do, they bring in three friends to help them experiment.

When attempts to share these abilities meet early failure, frustration and impatience take over and one of the friends turns out to be not as reliable as they had thought. He decides the military should control these powers, and he doesn't care what that means for our couple.

Blood Magic:

Mark, the psionic scientist, continues his investigation into the abilities that he acquired along with his fiancée Linda during the strange lightning storm. Along with their friends Carl and Sara, who helped them along the path to discovery, they delve deeper into the root causes behind it.

However, a series of brutal murders in their small town, that rarely sees any crime, has put them into the spotlight again. The investigating sheriff noticed a similarity between the new murders and the corpse of Sid Jensen, who was found at what is now known as the 'Valley Battle Site'.

To make matters worse, Major Matt Hatter from Fort Bragg is in town to investigate the incident, but seems more interested in watching Mark and Linda. Shadowed by both police and military observers, they will have to be extra careful if they are to avoid having their secrets revealed.

Psionic Flight:

While flying north to help set up a research lab to test the limits of their psionic powers, terrorists strike. Can our couple stop the hijacking with their new abilities?

Psionic Wedding:

Mark and Linda head to Las Vegas for a wedding and honeymoon. While our psionic couple enjoys their newlywed bliss, their friend Carl gets himself into trouble by using his new abilities to cheat at the table games.

When he gets caught by the wrong people, they only have one chance to save him. Can the Psionic Scientist beat the odds in Vegas, or has Carl lost his last bet?

Psionic Exploration:

After their Vegas trip was ruined by Carl's exploits, Mark and Linda fly to Cancun for a second honeymoon. While touring the Mayan ruins in the area, our couple discovers an amazing psionic connection to the ancient temples.

In their zeal to discover lost secrets, they head out on an unwise journey into uncharted territory, and smack into the middle of a drug cartels crop. To make matters worse, their psionic powers seem to be fading. The psionic scientist will have to think fast if he's to save them from a shallow grave in the middle of nowhere.

Psionic Overload:

Newly-married and fresh from their honeymoon adventures, Mark and Linda visit Carl in Edmonton to begin research in the new lab. Despite all their efforts at secrecy, their research is compromised by Carl's new intern, who just happens to be Mark's old college girlfriend.

Having decided that Linda is unworthy of both Mark and psionic powers, and that the world "owes her", she discards both morals and ethics in a quest for revenge that threatens to destroy anyone and anything that gets in her way.

When words fail, a race for power ensues that could prove deadly for our heroes who now face an opponent with powers equal to their own.
