When meetings drag, workdays seem to go on forever, and the mind begins to lose focus, there's only one thing to do: let them fly! That's the fun of these paper airplanes made out of those sticky notes that have become a staple in every office. They're a marvelously simple, low-tech way to step back from a difficult problem and take a much-needed breather. Best of all, the adhesive on the sticky notes eliminates the need for difficult folds. The designs range from the basic dart to more complicated multi-sheet aircrafts patterned after American "X" and Century Series fighters. And for those dreamers with a little patience, there's a final "imagination" section that sends the paper plane soaring into new territory.
